Dear Adrian,

I am amazed at the analysis of the responses to the Development Plan for Chelveston, Caldecott & Chelston Rise. You have really done an excellent piece of work. Since I am retiring in a few weeks it won't affect me personally but it is good to know that many responses have been given considering the usual low rate of any such response to this type of work.

I notice that a majority of respondents desire the development of an extension to the churchyard in the area adjacent to the the present churchyard. And that is what has been discussed between PCC & Parish Council.

Do you think that since the Development Plan is looking ahead 20 or so years, that there could be an extension to the car park beside the Village Hall? I know we have just completed a splendid car park there but if the Village Hall gets more use etc it may be prudent to at least plan for a larger car park in so many years time.

Anyway, thank you for the analysis and I hope that any development is small scale. The character of Chelveston cum Caldecott & Chelston Rise must not be altered in the years ahead. It is too precious for large scale development to take place.

Best wishes.

Fr Grant
